"We were very pleased with The Interiors Group, who produced the project on time and on budget to a very high quality. Their teamwork and communications were excellent."

Steven Howard, Head of Facilities

Boardroom (Open Configuration)

ICG's continued growth and success created a need for additional space; It was decided that they would occupy a new suite close to their existing offices, in which they would create client-facing reception and meeting facilities consistent with their global standing.

The project involved comprehensive video-conferencing and audio-visual facilities, and particular attention was applied to overcoming a lack of natural light, by installing a barrisol ceiling and backlit glass panels.

Natural oak veneers combine with deeply textured carpets and fabrics in earthy tones to create a timeless, comfortable setting with all the facilities required to support productive business meetings.
